

ROCKEFELLER READY TO BACK MINE OFFICIALS

Vigorous Cross-Examination
Resumed by Chairman
Walsh of Commission

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 22.—With only four of the eight members of the industrial relations commission present, Chairman Walsh today resumed his vigorous cross-examination of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Mr. J. Borden Harrison, who protested against the attitude of Walsh in his examination of Rockefeller, was one of those absent.
Mr. Rockefeller reiterated his opinion that when the authorities failed to protect life and property, the private citizen had the right to use force to protect himself.
Walsh read a letter to Rockefeller by "Old Mother" Jones has been on the ground for two weeks, but he understood the governor has ordered her to be taken to the state and to be held not to return." Walsh then read parts of Rockefeller's letter to Bowers saying he would back the mine strikers in everything they did and asked if it wasn't written after deportations had occurred.
"Will you be kind enough to read all the letters?" Rockefeller asked.
"I can't do that at this time," said Walsh, "but any letter you desire to read you may submit after I have concluded my examination."
"When I am unable to reply intelligently to questions based on fragments of letters,"

TSE-NE-GAT, INDIAN, HAS DEVELOPED TUBERCULOSIS

Alleged Slayer of Mexican Sheep Herder Now in Denver Hospital

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 22.—Major General Scott, chief of staff of the army, has received word from Denver that Tse-ne-gat, the Indian who surrendered last April, affected the flu and successfully resisted the attempt of the civil courts to arrest him, has developed tuberculosis.
Knowing General Scott's interest in the Indians, the department of the interior has arranged that Tse-ne-gat shall remain in hospital as long as the treatment is beneficial to him, and in the event that he shall be brought to trial on the charge of murdering a Mexican sheep herder, he will have the benefit of counsel and an interpreter.

THREE MEN OF NAVY PRAISED FOR HEROISM

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 22.—Secretary Daniels has commended Albert Cayo, gunner's mate, first class, and Fred Falk, electrician, first class, of the third submarine division of the Pacific fleet, for heroism in saving two shipmates from drowning while all were in swimming off Coronado Beach, California, last month.
R. N. Howland, musician, second class, attached to the cruiser Albatross, also has been commended by Mr. Daniels for heroism in jumping overboard in the event of a fire, and rescuing a fellow sailor from the waters of Honolulu harbor.

Bailey Closes Argument

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Joseph W. Bailey, chief of counsel for the Riggs National bank in its injunction action against Secretary McAdoo, Controlling Director, and Treasurer Burke, concluded his argument in the district supreme court today against the motion to dismiss the suit.
Mr. Bailey devoted his argument today to the objection lodged with Comptroller Williams in calling for special reports.
He argued that while the comptroller might demand information of existing banks he could not demand information of banks closed fifteen years ago.
"That depends upon surrounding circumstances," suggested Justice McQuinn.

Dr. Brunson Indicted

Dr. J. D. Brunson, the young medical student who engaged in a pistol duel with J. J. Nash at the corner of Fifth and Peachtree streets May 1, was indicted today by Grand Jurors for assault with intent to murder. No indictment was returned against Nash. Brunson is in Grady hospital as the result of bullet wounds.

PEACHTREE CORNER BRINGS $7,143 A FOOT

McKenzie Estate Reported to Have Sold Property
for $150,000

An order taken in the superior court which authorized the McKenzie estate to invest funds in a parcel of real estate on West Mitchell street verified reports in real estate circles for the past week that this estate had sold the southwest corner of Peachtree and Walnut streets.

This corner, it was reported, was bought by George W. Parker, of Monroe, Ga., for $150,000. He gave as part payment the property at West Mitchell street, which was valued at $50,000, and considerable cash.

The Peachtree corner has a frontage of 21 feet more or less on Peachtree street and a depth of 100 feet on Walnut street. It brought $7,143 a foot. It was bought in 1911 for $100,000. On the lot there is a two-story building.

The Mitchell street property has a building on lot 23414. It went into the deal unencumbered, so the McKenzie estate practically took it as its profit on the corner. Mr. Parker bought the parcel in 1911 for $5,000 cash.

The transaction is understood to have been handled by Otto F. Fell, of the Empire Trust and Safe Deposit company. King & Spaulding represented the estate in the transaction.

This is one of several transactions in central real estate which have been made this spring, all of which showed an advance. On Friday announcement was made that the Keadley company had made a new lease with the Jones estate on its present location at Whitehall and Hunter streets.

The former lease, which was for fifteen years, had nearly two years to run. It was cancelled and a six-year lease was entered into. The old lease was for $3,400 a year, while the new one is for $25,000 a year, representing an advance of over 100 per cent in thirteen years.

Mother Takes Poison; Child Persuades Her To Hurry to Hospital

Mrs. Lillian McGrath, of 15 East Harris street, who swallowed a half-pint of wood alcohol Friday night and then allowed her 10-year-old son to persuade her to go with him to Grady hospital, was in a serious condition Saturday morning, and her recovery is said to be doubtful.

After a scene with her husband, Mr. McGrath is said to have drunk the alcohol. Then she called her little son (her only child) and her arms around his neck and kissed him, and told him she would take care of him and would never wake up.

Understanding her, the boy begged his mother to go to Grady hospital and let the doctors save her life, telling her she must live for his sake. Such an appeal she could not resist. Now she is fighting to recover.

Mrs. J. A. Johnson, of 298 1-2 West Peach street, who took morphine Friday night, was found unconscious by her neighbors and rushed to Grady hospital. She is now out of danger.

BIBLE LESSON FOR EPISCOPAL SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Whit Sunday, May 23—Subject: Crossed the Jordan. Text: "And he that hears my voice, I will give unto him, and he shall never thirst."

When a great leader passes on, his people are left with the task of carrying on his work. This is the case with the great leader of the church, Jesus Christ. He has left us with his word, and we must carry on his work.

The first step in carrying on his work is to keep his word. We must keep his commandments, and we must love him and our neighbors as ourselves. This is the way to life.

The second step is to keep his word. We must keep his commandments, and we must love him and our neighbors as ourselves. This is the way to life.

The third step is to keep his word. We must keep his commandments, and we must love him and our neighbors as ourselves. This is the way to life.

The fourth step is to keep his word. We must keep his commandments, and we must love him and our neighbors as ourselves. This is the way to life.

T. Cobb Now In First Place Among Batters

Peach Overhauls Fournier and Tops American League. Jenkins Retains Lead in the Southern—Luders is Leading in National—Kauff in the Federal

CHICAGO, May 22.—T. Cobb has displaced Fournier as leader of the American league batters. Averages published here today covering games up to and including Wednesday's games, show the Detroit slugger a percentage .400, while his Chicago rival has dropped to .375. Cobb has been in front of Maise, of New York, as a base stealer, having 18 to the latter's 14, and has scored 33 runs more than anybody else in the league. Daily Chicago Tribune is in batting at .389; Jackson, Cleveland, fourth with .355, and Crawford, Detroit, fifth with .345.

Ranked according to games won and lost, the leading American league pitchers are: Fisher, New York 6 to 0; Benz, Chicago, 3 to 0; and Faber, Chicago, 3 to 0.

Fred Ludus, Philadelphia, tops the list in the National league. He has pitched 17 games, and has won 10, and lost 3. He has a batting average of .375. He has pitched 17 games, and has won 10, and lost 3. He has a batting average of .375.

Big Field Meet For Boy Scouts

The third annual track meet of the Boy Scouts will be staged at the old track at Piedmont park, eight troops have entered, and it is expected that over 150 boys will participate.

This meet was scheduled to be held two weeks ago, but due to a severe rain, it was postponed. It is the hope of the organizers that the meet will be the largest ever held locally, and will draw a large number of entries, and the interest that has been manifested so far, it appears that a successful meet will be held.

Qualifying Round For Adair Trophy

A large field of players is expected to take part in the qualifying round for the Adair trophy, which will be played on Saturday afternoon. The tournament will be a handicap affair, club allowances applying in the qualifying round, as well as in regular matches in all flights.

Eastman Club Re-organized

EASTMAN, Ga., May 22.—The Eastman baseball club has been re-organized, and a board of directors was selected. The board consists of: J. H. Anderson, president; T. D. Coleman, secretary and treasurer; J. H. Anderson, secretary and treasurer; J. H. Anderson, secretary and treasurer.

Final Round for Carolina Golf Title

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 22.—Today over 100 golfers gathered at the Charleston country club for the final round of the Carolina golf championship. The tournament is one of the most important in the South, and is played during the forenoon.

THE LAST AND ULTIMATE STRAW

"In the full clutch of circumstance," As Mr. Henley said, I rarely yelp or cry aloud Or bow my gory head.

But there are times my iron will Caves in with quite a crack, And one of these is when I read Jack Johnson may come back.

Yet we see it rumored that after a brief delay the ex-champ in sable may leave a dicey Willard on a roundabout route. And, of course, Willard will accept. Of course. Like Kelly will.

HAGEN ABOUT THERE

If Messrs. Vardon, Ray, Duncan, etc., decide to visit our shores for a joust in the sand troughs, Outimet will not be the only big gun America will have for defense.

We took a day off to amble around after Walter Hagen, open champion, recently, and you may consider our friend confirmed that the young schooler, pro, now open champion, is about there. Hagen may not be the steepest climber in the world, but he is far from being wild. And to offset any fluttering from the course, he has a marvelous faculty for recovery, and it is hard to believe that he is one of the best putters now indulging in Scott's ancient pastime.

HAGEN CARRIES A GAME OF LIFE POWER

Hagen carries a game of life power. He has a terrific swipe, and, beyond this, he plays with boldness and great confidence, and so is almost sure to be at his best under fire. In this respect he is much like Jack McDermott, save that his aggressiveness is of a much quieter mood. On this particular day at Greenwich Hagen reeled off the last nine holes in 30, a matter of 6 better than par. In turning this trick he was called upon to play a wide variety of shots, and the score of 30, embracing five 2s and 2 on nine holes, is sufficient answer that he played out the set without a quiver.

CHAMPIONSHIP STUFF

Hagen is no fluke champion, because, in addition to having the shot, he is fairly reeking with confidence. Look back over the list—Alie Smith, Jack McDermott, Jerry Travers, Francis Olmsted and the other winners, and you will find this same attribute—which may be the result of ability or may help produce ability, depending upon which school of sportive psychology you may happen to follow.

PERFECT UNDERSTANDING

Italy now understands how Walter Johnson and other stars felt about it when placed between the Feds and Organized Baseball, each dangling a hugehead of doubtless within the player's reach.

DONOVAN'S SYSTEM

Bill Donovan undoubtedly knows what it means to a pitcher to be yanked from the scene the moment he starts to career or slide. Switching a slaban may help out on that one occasion, but it is sure to have a bad effect later on. For no pitcher can have any great confidence in himself when he knows that one bad round is likely to find him through for the day.

So Donovan has let his pitchers stick it out. We recall no past occasion when any manager ever let the starting pitcher finish a game without change for twenty-five consecutive outings. In the long run this policy is sure to instill confidence in his staff and produce enlarged results.

There is always loud cheering among the Philly pitchers when Grover Cleveland Alexander enters the box. No one is then forced to wait for relief work. Alexander, as a rule, needs about as much help as von Hindenburg does along the Mazurian lakes.

CONSIDER KICKS

The percentage that luck plays in any contest depends upon the amount of skill involved. The game entry in the business it not the one who comes from behind, but the front runner that can protect a scant lead.

OLD-FASHIONED STUFF

Crushed in the days before the Mackmen developed a wallop that crashed all opposition, the league was noted for scalp-lifting finishes where three, four or five clubs pounded along back to back.

And now, with the dismantlement of Canine's rock-crushing nature that at least four clubs have a good chance to finish first this season, and Tyne turned out to be the best of the bunch. But the other five look to be well matched for the six weeks' campaigning. And from these five at least three should be recalling the dizzy campaign of 1908.

A SONG OF THE TRENCH

You have come to the end of the highway, Traveler, where the Last French waits; You have turned back from the byway, Traveler, in through the Twilight Gates. Shall I tell you where your way has led To one who has only gone ahead Through the line of the phantom fates.

Cracker delivers in Fine Form in His First Tryout

By Innis Brown

There was one feature, predominating high and wide, above other considerations at Ponce de Leon in the first game of the season, when the Cracker delivered in fine form in his first tryout.

Volunteers Friday afternoon, Manager Bill Smith introduced to local fans the Cracker, who had been in the St. Louis Browns, and more recent still of the Louisville Colonels. Scotty, or rather Scotty's hurling was the dazzling light that practically blinded the gaze of the populace to any and all other activities.

Minutal of the fact that one swallow does not make a spring—nor a jag—does not make one pitched ball same build and sustain a finer's reputation. To claim to have entered herein that the Cracker had entered in a star hurler. But with one condition, the statement is advanced that they have grabbed off a winner, I. E. if he continues to perform for the rest of the season as he did in the Cracker's first tryout.

Yes, suffice it, if this late resident of the land of fair women and fast horses, was to continue to perform in the same stock in trade in dispensing to the Vols Friday, you can ask the family about that. Scotty will linger along through the months intervening between now and the middle of September, and amidst, and that seven other club players will follow him, who will be the smoked classes Jack Hayden was peering through when he lapped came good in his first tryout.

This hypothesis leaves everything up to the Cracker, who will be the one to make it fall or fulfill. There may be complications of which we will not speak, but the Cracker will be the one to make it fall or fulfill. There may be complications of which we will not speak, but the Cracker will be the one to make it fall or fulfill
